Hear from Our Internship Directors

"Working with developing veterinarians encourages me to challenge my own practice, seek evidence for my decisions, and keeps enthusiasm and fun in my day to day work."

-Dr. Jessica Urbonas,
Internship Director, Pieper Memorial

"As Assistant Internship Director, my focus is supporting our house officers as they transition from trainee to leader in the hospital setting. At Pieper, we use our strengths to invest daily into our mentees and future colleagues."

-Dr. Kathleen Kimball,
Assistant Internship Director, Pieper Memorial

"The fantastic mentorship I received during my own internship and residency played an integral role in advancing my career in a productive, efficient, and enjoyable fashion. I decided to become the internship director at Portland Veterinary Emergency and Specialty Care to provide the same opportunity and guidance to new veterinarians looking to gain additional advanced training."

-Dr. Adam Shoelson,
Internship Director, PVEESC
